Collaboration & Integrity

All our activities are based on team effort because we know that collaboration multiplies contribution and its through our shared goals and mutual support, we can take our process to higher levels of success and enable our students to receive quality education in a unique and special way. In order to achieve effective collaboration, trust and care among all stakeholders should be present in all aspects of our activities.

CORE VALUES

As a destination for quality education, AITU commits to satisfying a number of core values that reflects unique educational standards of excellence:

Student-Centered & Lifelong Learning

At AITU, we consider our students to be at the center of the educational process. Consequently, we stand for active learning where students are always encouraged to participate in classroom and online discussions with an eye on developing core lifelong skills such as communication, problem solving, teamwork, creativity and ideas generation. In addition, we educate our students in a way that they would always appreciate the fact that learning is a lifelong experience which enriches professional and social lives as well as positively impact societies.

Flexibility

Because we believe that our students are unique and have different educational needs, we provide flexible and accelerated degree programs both on campus and online.

FACULTY MEMBERS

As a quality education destination, AITU relies on faculty members who have solid academic background and well established professional experience. As such, faculty members focus on the core competencies that are needed by students and employers. Simply stated, students will be exposed to practical experiences and get well equipped with effective tools that are directly applied in today's complex and challenging world.

Our faculty members have passion for excellence in education which is translated in their instructional styles. Consequently, they share their expertise with their students and supplement their core curriculum with instructional activities that provides a unique learning experience and help their students easily progress in their future careers. Because we believe that students play an essential role in the educational process and elevating teaching standards, AITU continuously seeks students' feedback on faculty effectiveness. Thus, our administrators use such feedback to improve and elevate the teaching and instructional techniques.
